Transform your 11mm rail into a Weaver/Picatinny interface for increased compatibility with your accessories.

The RB5 and RB6 adapters feature a high-quality, compact two-piece design. With a length of 21 mm for each piece, they ensure a stable installation and maximum compatibility. The RB6 model adds 15 mm of mounting height, ideal for most shooting applications, while the taller RB6 increases the height by 20 mm for configurations requiring additional elevation. Made from anodized aluminum, these adapters combine lightness and robustness, ensuring optimum durability even in the most demanding conditions.

To adapt and assemble:

- an 11mm rail optic on a 21mm rail weapon
- a 21mm rail optic on an 11mm rail weapon.

Designed for demanding users , this adapter is aimed at hunters, sport shooters and gunsmiths looking for a practical and reliable solution to expand the possibilities of their weapon. Thanks to its height of 16 mm, it avoids interference between the optics and the original rail, ensuring perfect alignment and ergonomic use. Its anodized aluminum construction ensures excellent wear resistance, even under intensive use conditions.

Whether mounting a rifle scope, red dot sight, or tactical accessories, the Sportsmatch RB5 is a versatile and durable option. Its two-piece configuration provides additional flexibility to adapt to different needs, making this product as practical as it is effective.

Allows you to mount older generations of scopes on recent weapons with 21 mm rails (Weaver type Picatinny type)

Or mount a high-performance optic on a 11 mm prismatic rail rifle

This assembly is produced in England by Sport Match under the references RB6 and RB5
