The FOSSE version of the ELOS N2 series

With the robust character of this N2 line, this configuration features a TRAP stock with a wide comb and a very closed grip to prevent any unwanted movement of the gun in the hand. Maintaining the same focus on perfect ergonomics for these disciplines-FO, FU, or more generally, trap shooting- the forend has a finely checkered, half-beavertail profile. The generously sized receiver geometry allows for an optimal center of gravity; the gun is stable, balanced, and delivers top-tier performance. The 10-8 mm tapered rib features a Bradley front sight and an intermediate bead. This shotgun is proofed to 1630 BAR.
