Small body but powerful capabilities

The M Series Clip-on Thermal Camera is one of the most affordable clip-on cameras on the market. It is very compact and easy to use as an accessory with rifle scopes. It can also be used as a portable professional monocular. There is no need to reset when attaching to the day scope. Clip-on thermal riflescopes are truly versatile thermal imaging scopes that give you more options and features. Whether you're looking to use it as a dedicated thermal scope or clip it in front of your day optic to increase the zoom capability of thermal imaging, these scopes can easily meet your needs.
