The Elos A2 Al Notte superimposed hunting rifle from Fabarm benefits from a lightweight Ergal action frame.

With its lightweight Ergal receiver, which saves 330g compared to the steel version, this shotgun is particularly maneuverable and responsive. Its pistol grip stock, tulip forend, and fiber optic front sight make the Fabarm Elos A2 Al Notte over-and-under shotgun ideal for waterfowl or walked-up shooting. The barrels, proofed to 1630 bar, and the receiver with its large steel insert allow for the use of high-performance lead substitute cartridges (steel, zinc, nickel shot, etc.) for shooting near wetlands.
