Fixed blade knife with ebony handle.

The Field 3.0 blade features a KG Gunkote finish which gives it excellent resistance to abrasion, chemicals and impact. Although the profile has been thinned, the shape of the blade still allows for significant mass of steel behind the cutting edge, resulting in longer sharpening life and improved edge impact resistance. Each blade is also hand fitted with ebony scales in our signature exterior pattern. The wood itself is cut and processed by the Crelicam ebony factory in Cameroon by a dedicated and hardworking local workforce. Each piece is unique, meaning each of these blades has the potential to be different and stand alone.

The Field 3.0 is the latest addition to the ever-expanding Outdoor series. At just over 8.0 inches long, the Field 3.0 is slightly smaller than the Field 2.0 and is light enough to take on trips when weight matters, while still being fully capable of handling the workload of his larger brothers. The most noticeable differences in design are in the thinner profile, particularly where the blade ends in a point, making the Field 3.0 ideal for hiding penetration.

Technology :

- TDT: multiple heat treatment and non-oxygen thermal normalization and cryogenic finishing to harden external austenitic steel. The guarantee of an ultra regular molecular structure and maximum hardness.
- MicraCoat surface treatment: Maximum anti-corrosion protection thanks to a thermal multi-layer application. Minimal thickness for exceptional protection.

- Dynamic Fluting handle: a multiaxial sculpted structure which ensures both comfortable handling and perfect grip of the knife.
