The Steyr AUG 42-Round Magazine features durable translucent polymer construction for easy visual inspection of ammunition. This lightweight design does not add weight to the weapon, even with increased capacity. The coated steel spring and follower provide smooth and reliable feeding, essential for sport and professional shooters. Designed for the HBAR LSW model, this magazine is fully compatible with standard Steyr AUG rifles, providing increased flexibility. Whether for extended shooting sessions or situations requiring additional capacity, this magazine meets the requirements of the most demanding users.
