A pistol grip that redefines the ergonomics of your AR

The Daniel Defense Black Pistol Grip is more than just an accessory: it's an essential upgrade for any AR-15 platform . Designed for demanding shooters, it features advanced ergonomics , ruggedness, and a unique feature: the integrated lower trigger guard .

Integrated bridge: a real product plus

The design directly integrates the lower portion of the trigger guard, eliminating the awkward gap often present between the grip and trigger on standard Mil-Spec rifles. The result: improved index finger comfort , especially when wearing gloves, and improved structural rigidity . This one-piece molded trigger guard also reduces the risk of breakage in extreme conditions.

Comfort and control with an optimized angle

Daniel Defense designed this grip with a more upright angle than traditional M4 grips. This choice improves the natural wrist position when shooting upright or in CQB. This reduces fatigue and optimizes shooting control during rapid-fire sequences.

The non-slip grainy texture ensures a solid grip regardless of weather conditions or when wearing gloves. This gives you optimal control of the weapon , even during extended sessions or in tactical environments.

High quality manufacturing and easy installation

Made in the USA from reinforced polymer , this handle is built to last. Resistant to shock, moisture, and extreme temperatures, it maintains its integrity even in harsh environments.

Installation is simplified with the included screw and washer. It is fully compatible with Mil-Spec AR-15/M4 platforms , with no adjustment required.

For demanding professionals and enthusiasts

Whether you are a sports shooter, a military officer, a police officer or simply an AR platform enthusiast, this grip provides you with increased comfort, control and safety . It combines Daniel Defense's expertise with real ergonomic innovation with its integrated trigger guard.

It is the choice of those who leave nothing to chance.
