Two sliders for quick and secure ARCA attachment, according to your needs!

ERATAC ARCA sliders are essential components for unlocking the full potential of the ARCA/M-LOK® system. They allow you to quickly attach accessories such as bipods, photo adapters, Picatinny rails, or other support systems to your weapon's ARCA rails. Two models are available to meet different ergonomic and locking needs.

Model T0700-1000 - Ball Lock Slider

This model incorporates a side locking system using metal balls, ensuring play-free positioning and optimal recoil resistance . Ideal for precision shooters or configurations with high mechanical stress. Unlocking is easily carried out by a side control.

- Perfectly rigid support, even with heavy loads.
- Compatible with all ARCA ERATAC rails.

Model T0700-2000 - Thumbwheel Slider

This slider offers a more universal and quick-to-install solution, thanks to its knurled knob. It is compatible with all ARCA rails on the market , including those from other brands. A wise choice for shooters looking for versatility and quick setup.

- Ergonomic dial for instant adjustment.
- Compatible with all standard ARCA accessories.
- Ideal for dynamic or cross-platform use.
