The Daniel Defense DDM4 V7P is a compact AR15 rifle, ideal for sport shooters looking for reliability and flexibility. Classified as a pistol, it requires no additional formalities, making it easy to acquire and transport. Its 10.3-inch barrel, manufactured with a 1:7 rifling pitch, is designed to maximize projectile stability while ensuring accuracy in all conditions. It features an internal chrome finish and a heavy external phosphate treatment, ensuring increased resistance to corrosion and wear.

The MFR 9.0 M-LOK handguard, machined from aircraft-grade aluminum, reduces overall weight while providing a robust platform for attaching optics, lights or grips. The carbine-length gas system improves recoil management and ensures a smooth firing cycle, even at high cadences.

The SB Tactical SBA3 5-position adjustable stabilizer stock with QD sling attachment points ensures maximum comfort. Complete with an ambidextrous GRIP-N-RIP charging handle and an ergonomic overmolded pistol grip, the DDM4 V7P is a model of ergonomics and control.

With its 7075-T6 aluminum machined receivers and Daniel Defense flash suppressor designed to reduce the light signature, this weapon stands out as a benchmark in its category. Ready to use right out of the box, the DDM4 V7P comes with a rugged case and a 10-round magazine.
