- Ejection : Automatic ejectors
- Sights : Adjustable rear sight + fiber optic
- Wood : Sanded and oiled walnut, non-slip grid pattern

Versatile, precise, and refined, the Fair Express Premier Ejector is designed for driven hunts. It combines the robustness of a steel express rifle with a sophisticated aesthetic worthy of the finest traditional firearms.

A rifle suitable for driven hunts

With its 55cm barrels , this express rifle is designed for instinctive shooting and rapid reactions. Its natural balance allows for smooth shouldering, while the fiber optic sights ensure rapid target acquisition, even in low light.

High-end finish

The steel action is adorned with fine engravings and gilded hunting scenes depicting wild boars or deer, depending on the side. The oiled, sanded walnut stock adds to the overall charm while offering good durability.

Versatility of calibers

The model is available in four highly sought-after calibers for driven hunts: from the versatile .30-06 to the powerful 9.3x74R . Each configuration offers an excellent feeling of control, without excessive recoil thanks to the weapon's well-managed weight.

FAQ - Fair Express Premier Ejector

Are 55cm barrels sufficient for good accuracy in driven hunts?
Yes. In driven hunts, the average shooting distance is short, and short barrels offer better maneuverability while maintaining sufficient accuracy for instinctive shots.

What caliber should I choose for a versatile driven hunt?
The .30-06 Springfield is an excellent compromise between power, trajectory, and ammunition availability. The more powerful 9.3x74R is preferable for large, dense game.

Does the rifle accept the mounting of a scope?
Yes. The model is designed to accommodate a rail or bases for mounting a scope or red dot sight.

What is the difference between the .30 R Blaser and the .30-06?
The .30 R Blaser was designed for ejection express rifles and offers slightly higher pressure with excellent consistency. It is ideal for modern express rifles.

Is the wood treated against the elements?
Oiled and sanded walnut offers good natural protection. However, regular maintenance with a suitable oil is recommended to prolong its lifespan.
