A revolutionary side-by-side shotgun dedicated to performance in shooting ranges.

The practice of sport shooting isn't restricted to a particular type of firearm; the only thing that matters is the enjoyment. However, if this shotgun is a side-by-side, it must be high-performing, very high-performing, with comfortable recoil and perfect balance. This firearm is the INFINITE RS. Mechanically, it boasts an indestructible design with a 4-lug barrel and the consistent use of forged steel. In terms of innovation, it features an adjustable trigger and a TRIBORE HP barrel with a removable, slightly raised rib made of Ergal 55 for an ideal center of gravity. The stock ticks all the boxes for high-level shooting: length, angles, pitch, asymmetrical grip, and adjustable cheek piece. Stylistically, it has a superb satin black finish with touches of azure blue. Entering the RS segment of the FABARM sporting range is a demanding goal; welcome to the INFINITE... RS.

High-level technology

Ballistic accuracy

The 76cm TRIBORE HP barrel ensures a consistent shot pattern and tight groupings. The Ergal 55 floating rib optimizes centering and reduces vibrations for ultra-stable aiming.

Indestructible mechanics

Featuring a 4-hook steel receiver derived from professional trap models, the Infinite RS platform is designed to withstand thousands of shots without losing its adjustment. The adjustable racing trigger allows for fine-tuning the feel at the shoulder.

Custom ergonomics

The Monte Carlo stock, with its adjustable cheek piece , adapts to all body types. The asymmetrical grip, optimized slopes, and sanded-oil finish ensure a firm and comfortable hold in all circumstances.

FAQ

Is the Fabarm Infinite RS suitable for competition?

Yes, it's a side-by-side shotgun specifically designed for intensive sport shooting. Its reinforced mechanics, adjustable trigger, and adjustable stock make it a fully-fledged competition weapon.

What is special about the 4-hook system?

This system guarantees a very robust locking mechanism, designed to last. It offers perfect barrel retention over time, even with intensive use at the shooting range.

Can the stock be adjusted to one's body shape?

Yes, the Monte Carlo stock is equipped with a height-adjustable cheek piece. This allows you to perfectly adjust the sight line to your posture and shooting style.
