FAQ

Is this 10-shot system reliable?

Yes, Gamo's Swarm 10X system is known for its reliability. It allows for smooth follow-up shots while maintaining good accuracy.

What is the difference with a spring-loaded model?

The IGT gas spring system offers less vibration, better consistency and superior shooting comfort compared to a conventional spring.

Do you need to reload after each shot?

No, thanks to the 10-shot magazine, you can fire several pellets successively without manually reloading between each shot.
