A rifle designed for precision in the field

In the field, the MAG Aries impresses with its natural handling and smooth action. The 3-lug bolt with a 60° opening allows for quick and effortless reloading - a real advantage during rapid-fire sequences. The crisp trigger pull of around 1.5 kg provides a clean, consistent break... exactly what you want for controlled shooting.

61 cm barrel: optimal ballistic performance

The 61 cm cold hammer-forged barrel fully exploits the potential of 7.62 mm calibers (.308 Winchester, .300 Win Mag, .30-06 Springfield). This length promotes good muzzle velocity and a flat trajectory, ideal for medium and long-range hunting . The absence of iron sights confirms its intended use with optics.

Microdot Classic 3-12x56 scope: effectiveness in low light

Whether you're hunting from a hide or stalking, the Microdot Classic 3-12x56 makes a clear difference. Its large 56mm objective lens captures maximum light - a particularly welcome feature at dawn and dusk. The variable magnification allows for easy adjustment to the distance, while the classic reticle ensures precise and intuitive aiming.

Fully assembled and ready to use

The pack includes a Picatinny rail, Mossberg MVP/Remington type bases, and 30mm rings. In practical terms, this allows for quick optics installation with excellent long-term stability. It's exactly the kind of setup you can use right away, without any complicated additions.
