High-strength steel construction

Made from carbon steel , this charger boasts a robust design capable of withstanding heavy use. The Black Oxide treatment enhances corrosion resistance and effectively protects the charger against moisture, repeated handling, and harsh conditions.

This rigidity is immediately noticeable, both when firing and during handling. The whole assembly inspires confidence, with no unwanted play or feeling of fragility.

Smooth insertion and simplified maintenance

Internal isotropic finish

The magazine body features an isotropic finish that reduces internal friction. As a result, magazine insertion and extraction remain exceptionally smooth, even during rapid-fire sequences.

Quick, tool-free disassembly

The tool-free disassembly system greatly simplifies routine maintenance. In practice, cleaning becomes faster and more convenient - a detail you quickly come to appreciate after several shooting sessions.

DANIEL H9® compatibility

This model is exclusively compatible with the Daniel H9® pistol in 9mm caliber. Its 15-round capacity allows it to maintain the compact and balanced size of the weapon while offering comfortable autonomy.
