A modern PCP designed for fluidity

The Gamo Arrow SLT features a straight-pull bolt action that allows for rapid reloading while maintaining the firing position. This exceptionally smooth action provides real user comfort, especially during rapid-fire sequences. It's exactly the kind of detail you notice from the very first magazines.

10-round magazine and long battery life

Thanks to its 10-round rotary magazine , this PCP air rifle allows for rapid follow-up shots. Its reservoir provides up to 90 shots per fill , minimizing interruptions during extended shooting sessions.

Quiet and pleasant to shoot

The Whisper Fusion system effectively reduces noise levels while maintaining excellent performance. Combined with the adjustable CAT trigger, it provides a crisp break and shooting comfort that is quickly appreciated, whether for precision shooting or recreational use.

Ergonomics designed for everyone

Compact, lightweight, and ambidextrous, the Arrow platform offers excellent handling. Its 11mm rail allows for the mounting of a scope, while open sights remain available according to each user's preferences. Overall, this modern design makes it easy to learn and use right from the start.

A Gamo-branded product

Designed and manufactured in Spain , this air rifle benefits from Gamo's expertise in airgun development. Its build quality, ease of use, and overall robustness make it a particularly attractive platform for discovering or practicing PCP shooting.
