Stability suitable for many configurations

Thanks to its dual mounting system, this bipod can be installed on a weapon equipped with a 21mm Picatinny rail or on a traditional sling swivel using the included adapter. This versatility allows for quick adaptation to different platforms without changing accessories.

Quick height adjustment

The telescopic legs allow you to adjust the height between 21 and 32.5 cm . Each leg has an effective locking system that ensures excellent rigidity once the position is chosen. In practice, this simplicity is appreciated when you need to adapt quickly to uneven terrain.

Mobility and precision

The 15° horizontal rotation facilitates target tracking without moving the entire weapon. The 50° opening angle improves stability on various surfaces, while the return springs ensure rapid leg deployment.

Robust construction for heavy-duty use

Weighing only 460g , this model maintains an excellent balance between lightness and robustness. The rubber feet provide good grip on most surfaces and limit slippage during shooting sessions.
