A 27-liter capacity suitable for field trips

With its 27-liter capacity , this bag strikes a good balance between bulk and available volume. Its dimensions of 50 x 30 x 18 cm allow you to carry clothing, accessories, and small items while maintaining a relatively compact size. This volume is particularly useful for a day trip or for organizing gear that you want to keep easily accessible.

Multiple compartments for better organization of your equipment

In the field, quickly finding an accessory is often just as important as carrying it. The multi-compartment zippered design allows you to distribute the contents rather than having everything crammed into a single pocket. The two front pockets, in particular, offer direct access to small, frequently used items.

Straps to stabilize the load

The various compression and securing straps allow you to adjust the external volume according to the load. When the bag isn't completely full, they help to keep its contents in place and limit movement. In practice, this is exactly the kind of detail that improves comfort while traveling.

A back and shoulder straps designed for carrying.

The bag features adjustable shoulder straps with a securing strap. The padded back panel provides more comfortable support against the back. This combination allows the bag to be adjusted to the user's body shape and the load level.

Self-gripping areas and fastening loops

The top pocket features hook-and-loop fasteners for patches . Loops on the sides of the bag offer additional options for organizing or attaching compatible accessories, making it easier to customize the bag's configuration to suit individual needs.

A green color suitable for outdoor activities

Its green finish gives it a discreet appearance, particularly suited to hunting and outdoor activities. The FAIR logo embroidered on the front pocket provides a subtle signature while clearly identifying the brand.
